Juvoly Quickconsult

In our practice, we use the software program Juvoly Quickconsult. It is a tool for the healthcare provider that converts spoken text into a summary for the General Practitioner Information System (HIS). This helps the healthcare provider's work, making your visit more pleasant. The software program ensures that the healthcare provider has to type less and has more attention and time for the conversation with you. The spoken texts are not stored anywhere, and the summary is saved in the HIS by the healthcare provider after verifying that it is correct.

Emergency

If the situation is life-threatening, always call 112 immediately.
